REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Oath/Declaration

The mailing address included in the electronic file wrapper, under the OATH drop down menu, is part of the assignment section. Since it is not part of the customary signature section, which states the residence and citizenship of the inventors, it is considered that the Oath/Declaration requirement under rule 63 is satisfied.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the claimed invention represents a non-obvious and non-anticipatory improvement over what is considered the closest prior art reference, which is Trost (US 5,992,049). Each of the independently claimed embodiments contain the feature of controlling the seed cotton dryer stage (with means thereof) or controlling the amount of gas fed to the seed cotton dryer stage to remove an amount of moisture from the seed cotton based on the desired moisture content of the seed cotton, the moisture content of the seed cotton entering the seed cotton dryer stage, and the rate of seed cotton entering the seed cotton dryer stage. The closest prior art, along with other references cited in this action, are considered to teach grain dryers and/or cotton seed moisturizing which is considered patentably distinct from the independently claimed embodiments because grain is much larger than cotton seed and requires different drying strategies (see especially Bestwick et al. (US 5,604,996) which distinguished grain from milo and rapeseed such that a grain dryer will not be able to dry smaller seeds, such as the claimed cotton seed or cotton moisturizing found in the prior art is not patentably equivalent to the claimed cotton seed drying.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
